FOR REHABILITATION

First Offenders Center Here Is Urged By Panel

A $100,000 Rehabilitation Center for first offenders has been recommended as the solution to ease overcrowded conditions in the Ouachita Parish jail.

The 12-man advisory committee appointed last January to solve the problem of an inadequate-size jail, yesterday released its recommendations.

Members recommended construction of a Rehabilitation Center at Selman Field.

Police Jury President M. W. Montgomery commented that, "It's a good idea. We wouldn't place hardened criminals there—just misdemeanor cases like drunk drivers."

SUGGESTED

The Committee suggested that since a similar overcrowded situation exists in the Monroe jail, the city might participate in the Center project.

Monroe Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard said yesterday that he has contacted the Federal Aviation Agency in Washington, D.C. about the Center.

"The Committee has recommended a site in a restricted area, close to the airport. We have to check with FAA to see if they will permit any kind of structure to be built there," Howard disclosed.

"I'm sure it will be several weeks before we have any word on it," he added.

The Mayor said that the matter must be discussed by the City Council before any decision can be made about the land. The city owns the tract of land suggested for the Center.

"We have no agreement with the parish as to how it would be operated," Howard said. "But I'm sure we would utilize the center if we can work out a suitable agreement."

"I think the overall plan is an excellent idea and is needed," he said.

Montgomery said that the suggested brick building and fence would cost about $100,000. The facilities would house about 100 prisoners.

"I'm not able to comment right now on how we'd get the

Teachers Pay May Be Hiked Up To $1,000

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A boost of from $300 to $1,000 in teachers' salaries may be in the works next year because of recent legislation, the Public Affairs Research Council said Friday.

The research organization gave an analysis of the increases in pay for teachers and others in bills approved by the fiscal session of the Legislature.

The possible boost of $300 would apply to beginning teachers. The $1,000 raise would be to holders of masters' degrees with 15 years experience.

PAR said it was issuing its final legislative bulletin reviewing the recent session.

Several other groups, PAR said, are in line for salary increases.

They include college faculty members, school supervisory and administrative employees, school bus drivers, state police and drivers' license examiners, some state officials, some members of the judiciary, and some municipal police and deputy sheriffs.

The extent of the salary increase for teachers and other school employees will depend on how much money the state receives in revenue from bonuses on state mineral leases.

The Legislature has appropriated money to raise teacher salaries to 75 per cent of the increases provided in the salary schedule in Act 3 of 1956. Full implementation rests on receipt of bonus income.

Ambush Slayer Of Two Sought

BASSETT, Va. (UPI)—A burly ex-convict, thought to be hunting his wife, shot and killed her brother-in-law from ambush Friday then killed the victim's infant daughter cradled in her grandmother's arms.

The grandmother was wounded in the side by the same bullet that killed the child. The assailant fled into hiding.

Clubs Join In Criticism Of Gov. Long

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Civic and business clubs Friday joined with newspapers and many Louisiana citizens in criticizing Gov. Earl Long for "undignified antics during his vacation tour through Texas, Mexico and the West."

Long left Louisiana almost two weeks ago. He admittedly left several thousand dollars at race-tracks, held press conferences and personal interviews in hotel rooms while only semi-clad, and cussed out authorities in various localities when they got in his way.

The 63-year-old fireballing governor confirmed that he has been spending some of his campaign funds on the trip, but explained the money was given him "to spend as I see fit."

PLANS MEETING

The Louisiana Assn. of Young Men's Business Clubs plans a meeting Sunday in Baton Rouge to discuss the Long episode. The New Orleans YMBC passed a resolution condemning Long for "irrational, bizarre and undignified conduct" and said his actions have "caused grave injury to the state of Louisiana and its people."

The Women's Alliance for Political Action in Jefferson Parish (county) sided with the business club and said: "We feel that the governor is a sick man and is presently incapacitated."

The New Orleans States-Item newspaper, in an editorial, called on friends close to the governor to make him aware of the "growing public sentiment against his

Nixon Looks Like Soviet To Some

MOSCOW (AP)—It developed Friday that Richard M. Nixon looks like Andrei Gromyko, in certain Russian eyes.

Nikita S. Khrushchev told the vice president that some people think so.

"I do not believe it," Nixon commented. "Mr. Gromyko is a handsome man."

"Only outwardly," said Khrushchev.

CANDIDATES SCARCE

Political Aspirations Sag In Delta Area

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth in a series on Northeast Louisiana politics. East Carroll, Madison, Tensas and Concordia parishes are included in today's story.

By SAM HANNA
Staff Writer

Maybe it's the heat, but something seems to be wrong with the politicians in the Delta.

In four parishes—East Carroll, Madison, Tensas and Concordia—only one man has filed against an incumbent.

Granted, Gov. Earl K. Long has politics in a whirl. Granted, too, there is ample time until candidates file in September.

Still, it's somewhat surprising that only one challenger has come out in the Delta.

He's W. E. Person, a Concordia parish man who has one term in the Senate under his belt. Person once beat Sen. Brennan Crothers of Ferriday and Crothers in turn defeated him.

Now, the two face a third race in their bids to represent the people of Concordia and Tensas parishes.

Otherwise, even political speculation is quiet in the four parishes, sources said. Rep. Jack Crane, who once rode a horse from Ferriday to Baton Rouge, of Monterey is unopposed at the moment.

However, one source said Crane definitely will have opposition.

The picture is different for the Delta's other three representatives, insiders believe.

Rep. Vail Delony at Lake Providence hasn't had opposition in years and he may not have an opponent this time. One observer at Lake Providence said there's not even talk of anyone coming

Khrushchev, Nixon Trade Fiery Blasts

MOSCOW (AP)—The American exhibition opened in Moscow Friday against a backdrop of verbal fireworks exploded by Richard M. Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev at a dramatic face-to-face debate.

In a sharp running exchange while gaping Russians and Americans looked on, each man accused the other of making threatening statements.

The U.S. vice president accused Khrushchev of filibustering and urged him not to try dealing in international ultimatums. The Soviet Premier interjected at one point: "Let us not beat around the bush. The main thing is we want to put an end to bases in foreign lands."

It was the most astounding public exchange between such world figures that reporters in Moscow ever have been able to listen in on.

TEMPERS FLARE

Khrushchev declared the Soviet Union has means at its disposal—meaning rockets and nuclear weapons—that "are better than yours." Nixon said the United States has good weapons too.

Words and tempers exploded on such issues as the Geneva conference and ultimatums in international relations. At times Khrushchev grew red of face and wagged a finger under Nixon's nose. The unexpected debate erupted as the two toured the grounds of the exhibition a few hours before Nixon formally opened the fair.

Judge Voids Term In Jail For Goldfine

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Bernard Goldfine, the gift-giving Boston textile tycoon, Friday was handed a suspended sentence of one year in jail and a $1,000 fine on contempt charges stemming from the 1958 influence investigation.

But he immediately faced another appearance before the House Legislative Oversight Committee, where he balked answering 18 questions which led to the charge.

Federal Judge James W. Morris, in rendering his verdict on Goldfine to answer the question if given another chance to do so.

Subcommittee Chairman Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) promptly said he expected to invite Goldfine back for further questioning. Harris said he would call a subcommittee meeting "in the next few days" to fix a definite date.

Goldfine said on leaving the court that he felt he was "vindicated." He added that he was "very happy about the outcome."

He also said he would be "very pleased" to answer the questions put to him last year if the committee recalled him.

Goldfine and his attorney, Edward Bennett Williams, announced last week they no longer would fight the contempt charges. Goldfine threw himself on the mercy of the court and withdrew his plea of "not guilty."

Morris indicated at the time that he would impose a light sentence because of the widely-publicized "bugging" of Goldfine's hotel suite during last year's investigation. The judge also made clear, however, that the subcommittee had every right to ask the questions.

Morris said Friday he imposed the suspended sentence after carefully studying a report by

Rains Drench Area; Streets Here Flooded

Northeast Louisiana was drenched yesterday in a wide-spread rainfall and firemen in the Twin Cities were called out to pump water from the streets and open drains.

Although the official reading in Monroe was recorded at one and one-half inches, parts of the Twin Cities received heavier rain.

Most of the rain fell in a comparatively short period of time, causing streets to flood momentarily. Traffic was at a standstill for several minutes.

CASCADED

Water on the Winnsboro Road and South Fourth Street cascaded up to the doorsteps of several houses and firemen pumped the water away. In West Monroe, drains in the downtown section were opened as a business house was threatened with flooding.

Farmerville reported approximately two inches of rain, as did Bastrop which also had a severe thunderstorm.

Heavy rain hit Rayville, continuing for several hours, while Winnsboro reported one and two tenths inches. The southwestern part of Franklin Parish got a lighter rain. Yesterday was the first time some parts of the parish had received rain in several weeks and farmers said the cotton prospects are now good.

Ruston got the lightest rain in the area, reporting only a slow drizzle.

More of the same is predicted for the Twin Cities area today, with clearing skies seen for tomorrow.

The maximum recorded yesterday was 91, with a minimum of 72. Thursday's readings were 95-72.

Arkansans may expect cloudy skies today and clear skies tomorrow.

Many Birds Die During Rainstorm

A sparrow convention which was being held in a large sycamore tree in West Monroe Thursday evening during the rainstorm ended with 104 birds lying dead on the ground yesterday morning.

John White, 411 Wheelis St., West Monroe, said he noticed a lot of sparrows chirping in the 12-year-old tree during the heavy rains, but was unable to see what was causing the commotion.

However, at that time they appeared to be all right, he added. Later they were flopping against the screens on his house. White said, but it wasn't until yesterday morning that Mrs. White and their son Michael, 16, discovered the dead birds.

Some of the 104 were found 25 feet away from the tree. White said a lead in electric wire touches a few branches of the 14-inch tree and he wondered whether the birds could have been electrocuted during the rainstorm.

U.S. Orders Modification Of Jetliners

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA) Friday ordered all airlines flying Boeing 707 jetliners to inspect the landing gear and to modify or replace certain parts.

The action was designed to halt a rash of incidents involving landing gear of the giant new jets.

The double-barrelled FAA order told the airlines to:

—Inspect all landing gears for evidence of impact dents on main landing gear truck beams (the axle that holds the wheels and to replace the beams if the dents are more than 0.005ths of an inch thick.

—Install a new type hydraulic fluid pump on the landing gears of most 707's now in service, or modify their present hydraulic systems to incorporate the safety features of the new pumps.

Included in the latter category were the three jetliners delivered to the Air Force for top official use. Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew in one of them on his current visit to Russia.

A Boeing spokesman said the manufacturer recommended installation of new pumps or modification of the old ones in a service letter sent May 20 to the four airlines flying the 707—Pan American and Continental.

Debutante Admits Kidnap Story Hoax

CHICAGO (UPI)—Missing debutante Jacqueline Hart was found screaming for help and weeping Saturday, probably the suburban home of family friends.

Earlier, she had sobbed to police a bizarre story that she was kidnapped as she walked to her car in the Newark airport parking lot.

She said she was tied up, blindfolded, gagged, and threatened with death as her two abductors drove her to Chicago. They abandoned her in lakefront Grant Park, she said, because the kidnappers decided she was "too hot" to hold for ransom and one of them turned "chicken."

Chicago police, noting the so-called "chicken" appearance and good grooming, discounted her story almost from the start.

Winds Knock Out Power In Freeport

FREEPORT, Tex. (UPI)—Hurricane Debra hit the Texas coast Friday night with screaming winds and blinding rain.

Winds of 94 miles an hour knocked out most of the electric power in Freeport, a coast city of 14,000 persons, south of Houston.

Reports reached the Freeport police station that the shrimp trawler Rosina was going down with three crew members aboard in the raging Gulf of Mexico.

The winds hit gusts of 61 miles an hour at Galveston, 45 miles up the coast from Freeport, where a hurricane in 1900 killed 5,000-8,000 persons.

ASK GUARD UNITS

Galveston is now protected by an elaborate seawall system, which would prevent it from being inundated by a tidal wave, which caused most of the deaths in 1900.

Freeport Police Chief Barney R. Priest asked National Guard units to help patrol the streets and prevent looting.

The failure of electric power at Freeport knocked out the police radio and technicians were trying to set up an auxiliary power supply.

"The situation is still serious," Priest said. "I think damage in Surfside and Quintana (beach resort communities) will be heavy."

The Hurricane Night Club at Clute, Tex., five miles east of Freeport, caught fire. The wind threatened to spread it over the rest of the community.

Charges Fly On Treatment At DeQuincy

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Charges and denials regarding alleged "inhuman and brutal" treatment of youthful inmates at the Louisiana Correctional Institute at DeQuincy were exchanged here Friday.

State Rep. Horace Lynn Jones of DeQuincy unleashed a blistering attack on the operation of the institute under Supt. Warren Cormier. Jones demanded that the state Department of Institutions make available to the public an investigator's report on LCI.

Sam Sonnier, Lake Charles member of the Board of Institutions, and E. R. Anderson, state director of institutions, Baton Rouge, promptly countered that the report is available to the public and has been all along.

They added that after studying the report the board had exonerated Cormier from any charges of wrongdoing and that there was no justification whatever for the superintendent's dismissal nor for any "further action" in the case.

Cormier himself declined to take any part in the controversy. He said only "I have never made a practice of issuing statements in political matters and I have no comment in this case."

The LCI flare-up came in the wake of a state Civil Service Commission hearing here Wednesday regarding the dismissal of Nathan C. Knight Jr., former farm supervisor at the institute.

Knight, who yesterday termed himself a "lifetime friend" of Rep. Jones, was dismissed on June 11. After taking testimony Wednesday the board said it would receive briefs from opposing counsel and hand down its decision at a later date.

First Offenders Center Is Urged

money to pay for it, but I believe we can manage it all right," he stressed.

The Committee recommended that the Center be located on 20 acres in the southeast corner of Selman Field, between the Milhaven Road and railroads running through the Field. The site is away from the Industrial Park.

GARDEN

Montgomery said that a small area suggested for a vegetable garden "would let the men raise food that could be used to feed them and prisoners in the jail at the Courthouse."

He mentioned that the Advisory committee had suggested the increase in space would allow district judges to sentence habitual offenders to a lengthy jail term, rather than a brief term and fine.

When contacted on the matter last night, Fourth District Court Judge David I. Garrett said the Louisiana legislature determines the maximum and minimum fine and or sentence on each offense.

"We have more than 1,000 statutes governing various offenses. The sentence depends on the statute. A judge has great discretion in passing sentence, but the sentence must be within the bounds of the penalty fixed by law," he explained.

The Committee urged that the prisoners kept at the Center "be encouraged to work, and it is believed that working them on the roads in the parish and the streets in the city is the best answer."

They suggested that the building be constructed of "common brick, concrete floor, and some type of concrete roof. The shower and toilet facilities should be adequate, but as simple and as low in cost as possible."

A rough sketch of the proposed building shows a central area with kitchen, messhall, with a wing on one side for colored prisoners and one on the other side for white prisoners.

"At least a good portion should be enclosed within a high cyclone fence and barbed wire at the top. There should be made available outdoor recreation yards for both white and colored. We also would recommend that a small acreage be devoted to vegetable gardening, not so much with the thought that this would be a paying venture, but that it would provide work for some men who might not be suitable for road work."

W. W. Kellogg was chairman of the committee.

Members included Lee Vanderpool, Conway Crossland, T. H. Scott, Joe Fuller, Paul Ransom, W. E. McDowell, W. A. Calloway, Allan Norris, J. W. Roberson, A. O. Evans and W. M. Watson.

ESTIMATED

They estimated cost ranging between $75,000 to $100,000.

The report noted that "there may be the possibility of water and sewage line problems. If the city could do so, they might be willing to undertake that portion of the construction."

It recommended "joint occupation" by city and state prisoners.

The report said that, "The Committee has come to the conclusion that a penal farm is not the answer. The farm would require a greater number of supervisory personnel.

"The prisoners, for the most part, who are sentenced to the Parish and city jails have had no agricultural experience, and it is almost a certainty that no farm could show a profit and would more than likely show considerable loss."

"Many of these prisoners could be rehabilitated if they were to serve their time under better conditions (than the crowded jail). "We do not advocate pampering prisoners nor letting them lead a soft life; but for certain types, particularly alcoholics, space, fresh air, sunshine, and hygienic living conditions can be made to pay off so that the number of "repeaters" will be reduced.

"Also, those guilty of other crimes would more than likely think twice before repeating if they knew they would have to serve full sentences.

"If this be true, the reduction in number of prisoners would reduce the overall cost per year."

The report traced the history of the present parish jail. It showed how conditions had become crowded to an extent that some prisoners are released before serving their full sentences so others could be jailed.

It said that when the jail was built 35 years ago (in 1924) it was designed to hold 60 persons, at most. Now, the daily average is over 100, and there is no practical way of enlarging the jail.

Some prisoners are forced to sleep sitting up on the floor.

"If additional facilities such as we are recommending were provided, it would enable the judges to use some discretion in sentencing 18 and 19-year-old offenders on a lesser crime, so they would be closer to home and not lose contact with their families."

"Also, they would not be placed in contact with hardened criminals as they would be if they were sent to Angola, where rehabilitation is most difficult if not impossible," the report said.

Salt Mine Is Readied For Testing

WINNFIELD (Special) —Engineers are setting up shop here on the Atomic Energy Commission's project designed to find out if the Russians could cheat on agreements under study at the Geneva Conference to halt nuclear testing.

A contract with the Carey Salt Co. inked Thursday for a reported $420,000 gives the AEC rights to set off 5-ton TNT blasts in portions of Carey's 811-foot deep salt mine here this summer to test the possibility of muffled underground nuclear shots so well their vibrations could not be registered by machinery.

Excavations at ground level and other preparations for the testing are expected to begin soon.

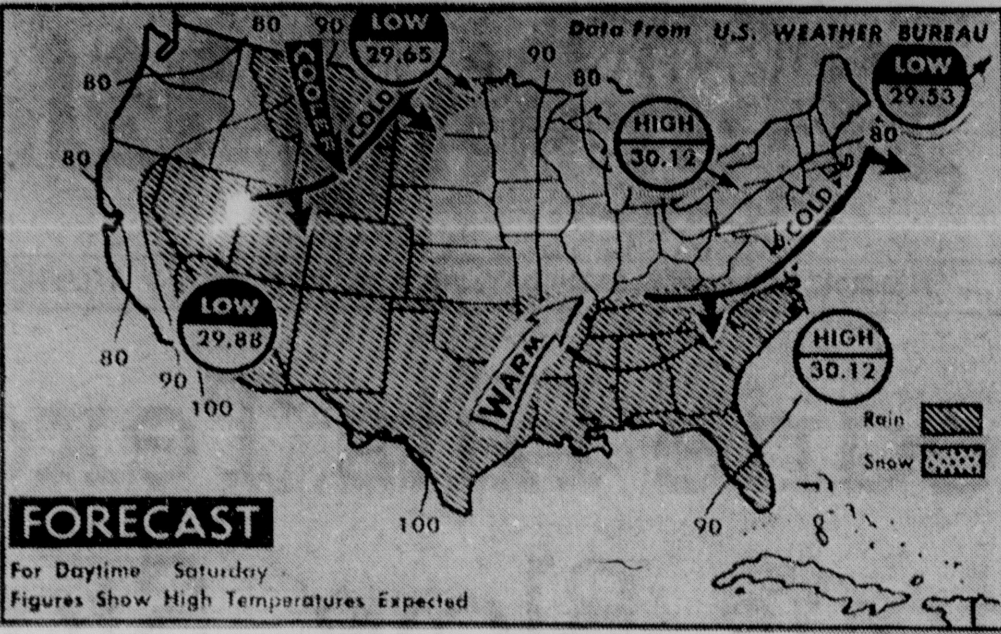

Engineers from a California firm who contracted the architectural end of the project are in town arranging offices, and according to the AEC will probably be ready to start their work next week.

The AEC said that excavation and scientific equipment needed for the project is expected to begin arriving right away.

PRE-TESTING

A commission spokesman said that the biggest pre-testing job is to sink a shaft to the 800-foot level over the planned blast area so that power lines, air cables and air filtering devices may be lowered directly into the working area.

Excepting this, other preparatory work will consist mainly of setting my seismic equipment on

No dates have been set for commencement of testing nor has there been any indication as to its duration except the announcement that the commission plans some 10 firings, each ranging up to five tons of TNT or dynamite. It has been stated that the overall operation will not be relatively large.

The commission's announcement of the project did not specifically state that its intentions were to determine if Reds could cheat on nuclear bans, in so many words.

However, it did say that theories on reducing observable seismic effects as discussed in the Geneva talks would be tested. If this reduction could be obtained to a high enough degree, the commission feels it will be possible to muffle any explosion, including nuclear shots.

aries for the coming school year are to be $3,250 for beginning nine-month teachers with bachelor degrees, if mineral revenues are not received in sufficient amount to fully implement the schedule. The minimum will rise to $3,400 if full implementation is achieved.

The upper minimum for teachers with masters' degrees and 15 years experience will go to $5,000 or to $6,400 with 15 years experience if full implementation is achieved.

With full implementation of the salary schedule, beginning teachers holding bachelor degrees and employed for 10 months would receive a minimum of $3,778; for 11 months, $4,156; and for 12 months, $4,533.

Masters' degree teachers with 15 or more years experience and employed more than nine months would receive minimum salaries as follows under full implementation of the schedule:

10 months, $7,111; 11 months, $7,822; and 12 months, $8,533.

If minimum bonuses fail to provide for full implementation, salaries will be reduced accordingly. School bus drivers with larger buses will receive salary increases from $150 to $300 for nine months, depending on the amount of bonus money received. Those driving station wagons and smaller buses will receive increases of from $75 to $150 a year.

Winds Knock Out Power In Freeport

between Freeport and the surfside resort area said a high-tension line fell just behind his car and "lit up the whole countryside like a bolt of lightning." Most telephone lines were still working.

State police, sheriff's deputies and city police set up roadblocks on roads leading to low - flying beach areas, which were all pounded by heavy waves. All schools in the area had been converted to shelters for persons trapped outside their homes.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in a 9 p. m. e.d.t. bulletin placed the center of the hurricane at about 20 miles due south of Freeport. It was moving northerly at about 6 miles an hour.

Warnings were issued for extra heavy rains with local amounts up to 15 inches in extreme southeast Texas and southwest Louisiana Friday night and Saturday as Debra moves inland.

Gusts of wind 60 to 70 miles an hour swept through the Freeport area several hours in advance of the time the storm center was expected to move inland. Tides in Freeport were four to four and one-half feet above normal at 8 p. m. e.d.t.

Forecasters at Galveston said Debra had no well-defined eye like that usually associated with a full-sized hurricane.

"Debra is not really a well organized hurricane," one forecaster pointed out, "but she still will be a pretty good blow when she moves inland."

All interests in the area from Freeport to High Island, Tex., were warned to continue to exercise precautions for dangerous winds and tides up to at least five feet high. Tides two to four feet above normal were expected elsewhere on the upper Texas coast.

Highest winds in the center at 9 p. m. e.d.t., were estimated at 75 miles an hour, with gales extending 40 miles to the west and 120 miles to the east.

Hurricane warnings were displayed north of Matagorda, Tex., to High Island and whole gale warnings elsewhere from Port to Port Arthur. Small craft from Corpus Christi to Morgan City, La., were warned to stay in port.

Debra earlier had been drifting slowly with 65-mile winds toward Matagorda, but with the development to hurricane force veered northward toward Freeport and Galveston.

Its sudden development caught fishermen by surprise. One vessel, the Princess Julie out of Tampa, Fla., was swamped and pounded service still better, add the facilities needed for growth, and enlarge and strengthen the communications network for national defense. These assignments call for financial strength.

"While earnings on our interstate long distance business have improved in recent years, they are lower than they should be and well below earnings of business generally."

"Three things have brought our earnings on interstate long distance business to their present modest level: technological advances by Bell Telephone Laboratories, particularly on the very long circuits, efficient management, and more long distance calls in this period of peak prosperity."

"The first two resulted from hard work and incentive. It is wrong to penalize a business because it has good research and good management. The third point — more calling — is the product of a high business curve, and it is as wrong to base rates on peak activity as it would be to base them on recession levels."

Warnings of tides two to five feet above normal were issued for areas from Port O'Connor to High Island, Tex., with beaches awash into the night. Gale warnings were hoisted from Port O'Connor to Matagorda and north to Freeport. Small craft were warned to stay in port.

The Coast Guard plucked three men off a fishing vessel which was swamped and sinking in 15-foot waves only three miles off of Freeport, Tex. Other Coast Guard vessels wallowed through heavy seas to reach boats reported in distress.

An amphibious plane was dispatched from Corpus Christi, Tex. to drop warnings to fishermen and to residents along the coast from Aransas Pass to Freeport. The morning was full of hurried preparations for the blow inland this afternoon.

Tells Her Story

Wrapped in blankets, Jacqueline Gay Hart, 21, Short Hills, N. J., socialite, told police, who found her Friday sobbing in lakefront park in Chicago, she had been abducted at the airport parking lot, blindfolded, and fed only candy bars while locked in a bathroom somewhere. She later admitted she didn't know how she got to Chicago. (AP Wirephoto)

Debutante Admits Kidnap Story Hoax

Her father and her fiancé, Stanley Noyes Gaines, 25, flew to her side. Finally, after exhaustive questioning, Miss Hart told FBI agents and her father the truth at 6:40 p. m. EDT, agents said.
"She advised me that there was no abduction and that she does not remember what went on," Hart said.
"It is obvious that she needs medical care. When she is able to travel we will take her to her home in Short Hills. . . She is presently under sedation due to sheer exhaustion."

Despite the father's statement that his daughter did not know how she came to Chicago, Auerbach indicated the society beauty had recalled a few details of the trip.

Miss Hart left Newark immediately after Gaines' plane took off at 11:30 p. m. EDT Tuesday, Auerbach said. She left her own car sitting in the airport parking lot.

Auerbach refused to answer any questions about how the heiress travelled the 830 miles between Newark and Chicago. He added, however, that "these things are still being checked out."

Hart, who is executive vice-president of the Colgate - Palmolive Co. said his daughter would stay in the Chicago area until her doctor said it was safe for her to go home.

Hart said he was convinced that the cause of his daughter's strange odyssey dates back to May 12, 1957, Miss Hart was visiting Gaines, who was then a University of Virginia student, when she was thrown from her car near Charlottesville, Va.

The girl was hospitalized for a few days and suffered amnesia for about 30 hours. But her recovery had been regarded as complete, the father said.

When she turned up in Chicago, Miss Hart's purse contained only $4.93. Her jewelry consisted of a cheap "Mickey Mouse" watch.

D'Arbonne Lake Work Due Soon

the commission has authority to obtain these flowage rights through legal channels. We are in hopes that we won't have to resort to taking legal steps."

But, Rabun said, "However, unless we can get the remaining flowage rights, we will be forced to resort to legal procedure."

The commission discussed the matter of obtaining the remaining property owners' flowage rights at a meeting in Ruston Thursday.

Rabun said, "Efforts are underway to contact those land owners who have not signed the flowage rights and unless the right-of-way agent is successful in obtaining the rights on a voluntary basis, the commission will be forced to initiate steps laying the basis and foundation and making proper preparation for the institutions of legal proceedings for condemnation of the property."

In 1956, the Legislature passed a bill appropriating $1-million for the project.

That bill was handled in the House by Rep. T. T. Fields, Farmerville, and Rep. L. D. Napper, Ruston, and in the Senate by Sen. B. R. Patton, who represents both parishes.

PREPARATIONS
Fields and Patton said yesterday that "all preparations as far as the state is concerned" have been completed to start work.

"The lake," according to Patton, "will have a shoreline of almost 200 miles with recreation areas, picnic grounds and parks. Think of what that will mean not only to our two parishes but to the entire Monroe area."

Fields added, "I only hope that the lake can be completed. There is no doubt in my mind that it would be the biggest asset to the people of this area that we've ever had."

Present plans call for the construction of a dam across Big Bayou D'Arbonne, six miles southeast of Farmerville. Water would be channeled from Bayou Corney, Big Corney, Little Corney, Middle Fork and Little Bayou D'Arbonne.

Rabun explained that the lake would take in a drainage area of Columbia County and Union County, Ark., besides Claiborne, Union and Lincoln parishes.

the court probation officer and after consultation with Williams.

Goldfine, whose highly publicized gift-giving reached all the way to the White House in the form of a vicuna coat to former Presidential aide Sherman Adams, wore a brown suit with a light-colored flowered tie. His secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, sat among the spectators.

In Boston, the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a contempt judgment against Goldfine and his secretary for failure to turn over records to federal tax agents. Goldfine and Miss Paperman are under 30-day and 10-day jail sentences, respectively. Both have been free on bail pending the outcome of the appeal.

Attorney Harold Rosenwald said he would appeal the Circuit Court ruling to the U. S. Supreme Court. The decision came a few hours after Goldfine was sentenced in Washington on contempt charges.

antics." It said his administration leaders should help clear "an atmosphere made electric by the governor's sick condition and the politics of a gubernatorial election year."

In Baton Rouge, the State Times editorially noted Long had accused newsmen of "hounding" him to the point where they are "driving him sick." It said Long could avoid reporters by either returning to the capital to discharge his obligations as governor or entering a hospital and "ask for treatment and for privacy while getting it."

The Alexandria Town Talk in an editorial noted the governor hid his face in a pillow slip to avoid newsmen in Fort Worth, Tex., and said it is not the fault of the press that Long has become so newsworthy since "he is the architect of his own harassment."

De Gaulle's Menace

In attempting to play a lone-wolf role, President Charles De Gaulle of France has created a situation which is dangerous to western-power unity and to the defense of Europe.

Taking the position that France, as a "great power," must have the right to control NATO stockpiles of nuclear warheads on its soil—a right not claimed by any of the other NATO allies—President De Gaulle has compelled General Louis Norstad, supreme military commander of the alliance, to make a most unwelcome decision.

Three fighter-bomber wings of the U.S. air force are to be moved to English and German bases, since their utility in defending western Europe, including France, requires immediate access to these weapons.

In World War II, President De Gaulle adopted a policy of playing his cards for twice what they were worth. The policy paid off handsomely, helping to overcome the shame of France's collapse, virtually without a struggle on the part of the government.

Now President De Gaulle is trying to over-play his hand again, with less excuse, in more perilous circumstances and against the nations which have been his allies.

President De Gaulle's obstinacy poses a serious menace to the whole structure of the NATO alliance. Disregarding the safety of the western nations, including his own country, he is applying pressure for the purpose of gaining for himself and for France a stronger voice in the NATO councils.

He may succeed in winning concessions that will satisfy him, but these will hardly enhance France's status as a "great power." This move on his part can be regarded as entirely selfish and as not having the best interests of the western nations at heart. It is a political maneuver in no way calculated to strengthen the defense of Europe against Russian aggression.

On the contrary, the tactics the French president has adopted are likely to remind the NATO allies that any expectation of assistance from a "great France" in meeting the Russian threat is largely fictitious. That fiction has come to depend for its maintenance on skillful exploitation of threats to contribute even less than it now contributes to the western allies.

Berlin Truce Blocked

An issue which the Russians may have thought thoroughly roped off by the "iron curtain" may cause them embarrassment at the Geneva parley of foreign ministers.

This subject — the matter of free elections for the countries occupied by Russia at the end of World War II — could develop into the breakup of the Soviet empire if the west is willing to apply the pressure.

Events are taking place which have brought out a measure of unity from such opposing camps as Sec. of State Christian Herter and Michigan's governor, G. Mennen "Soapy" Williams.

The position has been arrived at in a haphazard manner, but the stand is unmistakably clear: the west wants to know when — if ever — Russia will permit free elections in the eastern European nations. This has been a sore spot since it became apparent Russia regarded her advance against Germany in 1944-45 as a march of conquest.

One of the surprises of the decade was "Soapy" Williams' performance in the presence of Soviet Premier Frol Kozlov in his recent visit to Detroit.

Gov. Williams has time and again shown himself a cohort of the Walter Reuther labor movement which took that organizer of the auto workers to Russia for a "good will and indoctrination" trip back in 1934. But this time Williams realized also he had a big block of Poles Hungarians among the workers and voters of his state. So when the pressure was on, he found the courage necessary to ask Kozlov when the peoples of Central and Eastern Europe — now under Soviet domination — could anticipate the opportunity to choose independence under free and secret elections.

Kozlov could not find a satisfactory answer so he attacked the question as being "wrongly put." Gov. Williams got about the same reply when he asked Kozlov about East Germany. But the important point was that he asked the visitor questions which hurt.

This is the same point — free elections in East Germany—which could break up the Geneva Conference and at the same time show the futility of trying to negotiate with Russia.

Foreign Minister Gromyko has not budged from his demands that the present governments of East and West Germany be equally represented on a commission to reunite all of Germany. This is Russia's requisite for a truce on the matter of demands that the Allies clear out of West Berlin.

Here again the United States has furnished the backbone for the western against Russia. The west insists a "big four" commission be established to work out German unity since there is no recognized "free" government of East Germany.

There was probably a time when the "liberal" elements in this country would have voiced criticism over the Dulles - Herter stand on absolute non-recognition of the East German government. For this reason, it is good to see such a person as Gov. Williams standing to be counted with those who refuse to back down to Soviet bluff.

Man's Best Friend?

Scientists have sent mail by missile, but they can't get off the ground in their efforts to solve an age-old postal problem—how to get Fido to relax his grip on the seat of the postman's pants.

Postmen, along with salesmen, delivery boys, casual callers and other miscellaneous human victims are suffering at least 300 nips a day across the nation.

That is the number of dog bites that are reported. Authorities fear there are many more that aren't. More than 100,000 dog bites were reported in the United States last year. Opportunities for even more assaults are greater this year for the simple reason that there are more dogs — 25 million of them all told.

Most dogs are regarded as well-mannered and well-trained by Tex Fawcett, veteran dog trainer, leading expert on man's best friend and an official of the Purina Dog Care Center at St. Louis, Mo.

But the few trouble makers often spoil things for all the docile dogs. Fawcett offered United Press International a list of helpful tips for keeping peace with the pet world. Here is what he advised:

—Never force your attentions on a strange dog. You may not be afraid of him, but HE is likely to be afraid of you. Let him make the first effort to break the ice.

—Don't run, even if a barking dog is charging straight at you with teeth bared. Your fight will make him think you have bad intentions and should be bitten.

Getting Hitched Up

GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Rovere's Book Is Biased

Author Never Permits Historic Justice To Interfere With Hatred For M'Carthy

Richard H. Rovere's book on Joe McCarthy was a disappointment to me because it contained nothing that had not already appeared in the gargantuan newspaper coverage of the late senator from Wisconsin. I was sometimes astonished at Rovere's insight, but he never permitted historic justice to interfere with his revealed hatred for the man.

As Rovere notes, Joe McCarthy did not organize a movement. He made no attempt to build a following. He did not establish a central office for the development of such a following. He remained regular in his party. Actually, Joe McCarthy sent out fewer mimeographs than most senators do. Rovere had an opportunity to do a thorough study of the man and the phenomenon of McCarthyism but hated for both blinded him.

Yet, as a determinist, it should have occurred to him that no manifestation in public affairs occurs unless there is, in the public mind, either a pressing need or a compulsive desire for it.

Rovere mentions in his book and I am able to judge his journalistic accuracy by the episode: "A guest in the hotel read (Schine's) pamphlet, was struck by its insights sought out its author, introduced him to George Sokolsky, who introduced him to Roy Cohn, who introduced him to McCarthy, who hired him. At any rate, somehow or other it happened—he was hired, and as the whole Western world was soon to know, Cohn and Schine became great companions."

The record, as given here, is untrue. I did not introduce David Schine to Roy Cohn, because Roy Cohn introduced David Schine to me. And to correct another of Rovere's errors, I introduced Roy Cohn to McCarthy, although several others suggested that he get Cohn as his counsel. These are small matters, but a careful author would have checked his details with either Roy Cohn or with me. He checked with neither of us.

When Joe McCarthy appeared on the scene, there was already a rising tide of anti-Communism. The Communists were riding high. Many were in government, in educational institutions, in the press, in industry and particularly in the amusement arts. Most of them were products of the unpleasant 1930s and had attempted to explain their personal experiences by a philosophy which they did not understand. A few were hard core Marxists, prepared to do anything, to commit any crime for the world revolution.

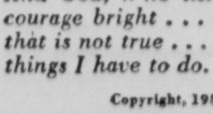

Groups of anti-Communists of various shades organized themselves into irresponsible, leaderless committees and groups who centered their activities about the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Some of the socialistic anti-Communists disliked the House Committee on Un-American Activities. In Hollywood, those who called themselves Communists, progressives or liberals boycotted active anti-Communists who were unable to find work. There were many rumors of espionage and the Rosenbergs and Alger Hiss's cases were already known.

Joe McCarthy did not just appear. Anti-Communist groups were in touch with several senators who failed to understand Marxism and its manifestations in the United States. Dr. J. B. Matthews, who had been a fellow-traveler, had served the Communist movement adequately, a man of great learning and competent communication, probably exerted the greatest influence on Senator McCarthy. Matthews' anti-Communism is as much personal as theoretical. Most of the leaders in the American movement had been his friends; he turned on them and devotes all his days to fighting them and their doctrine.

Had Rovere prepared his material, had he given himself to an analysis of the times and the influences surrounding McCarthy, he would have discovered that McCarthy was a colorful incident in an unorganized, spontaneous movement among Americans against Communism and Communists.

Again, Rovere's hatred for McCarthy blinds him. He makes the man appear as little more than a drunken hunk who scares the great in Washington by the noise he makes. Politicians are not scared by a drunk who means nothing and has no real substance. Nor can a man accomplish so much, good or evil, as you choose, who is nothing more than a gay, devil-may-care alcoholic. It cannot be done.

Joe McCarthy was a serious-minded politician who, once he understood the nature of the Communist conspiracy, undertook the heart-breaking, unpopular task of fighting it. The fight killed him. The disappointments and betrayals killed him.

Tax Limit Sought

Asked By American Taxpayers Association To Trim Spending

An organization which occupies a small office in Washington a few days ago noted the 50th anniversary of Congressional submission of the income tax amendment to the Constitution, studied Treasury figures revealing that fiscal year 1959 was the greatest peacetime spending and deficit year, and made known its intention to keep plugging for a limitation of income tax.

The organization is the American Taxpayers Association. It is one of the leading organizations fighting for the tax limitation. There are several of them. The goal of the organization and supporters in Senate and House of Representatives is a maximum bracket of 25 percent. This with a cut in government expenses, plus increased revenue through augmented business, would provide ample sustenance for the government in normal years, the organization and legislator claim.

Though the legislatures of thirty-two states have at one time or another during the past twenty years urged Congress to submit a constitutional amendment fixing a top rate of twenty-five per cent on the income tax assessed against any individual, Congress has thus far ignored the petitions.

Rep. Noah Mason, Republican, Illinois, veteran member of the House of Representatives, author of the proposed amendment, said that the prospects for any action at this time are "nil."

"The trouble is," he said, "the Democrats want plenty of money to spend. And as a matter of fact, the Eisenhower Republicans do too. They know that if this amendment is adopted, federal revenue would be cut and they would be forced to reduce government expenditures accordingly."

Mason said that he has talked to Congressional leaders frequently during the present session, both Democratic and Republican, but can get no satisfaction that the resolution he has offered will be considered this year, at least.

The proposal would impose a normal limit of 25 per cent individual income, corporation income, estate and gift taxes.

Provision, however, is made for Congress to increase these rates as much as fifteen per cent for a single year, and in event of war, suspend them entirely. Presently, rates progress as high as 91 per cent on individual incomes; 52 per cent on corporate earnings; 77 per cent on inheritance taxes; and 57 1/2 per cent on gifts.

Mason and those groups working with him for adoption of the amendment estimate that the initial reduction in revenue would be between fifteen and twenty billion dollars.

In their opinion, a large part of this initial loss would be replaced within a short time by increased business activity, resulting in more profits for both corporation and individuals. Mason points to the rapid increase in revenues from the federal taxes after World War I and World War II when income and corporation taxes are reduced.

"Therefore, judging the future by the past, we state very emphatically and confidently that tax limitation, the adoption of a tax ceiling, with the resultant tax relief, will pay off in the long run. It will be good business. Also, in my opinion, it is the only fiscal salvation in sight today for the American people."

Mason vigorously contends that the United States is falling into Communist trap by steadily increasing its expenditures, and at the same time, taxes.

In his statement before a House Judiciary sub-committee last year, which considered his and other similar resolutions, the Illinois Congressman cited a forecast by Nicolai Lenin in 1924, when the Communist dictator declared:

"Some day we shall force the United States to spend itself into destruction."

Some question has been raised concerning the actions of the thirty-two state legislatures endorsing the amendment, enough normally to force a Constitutional Convention, due to lack of precedent for such a move.

Dan Casey, executive vice president of the American Taxpayers Association, admits that there is some question about the status of these petitions, but adds:

"How are we going to find out the legal status of the requests if Congress will not give us a hearing?"

In some States, the resolutions adopted by the Senate and House were slightly different. Casey and others feel that this should not affect the legality of the action. Another question raised is whether the action of a state legislature is binding beyond its own limits.

"I don't know how we can get a ruling on these questions without hearings and action by Congress," Casey says.

States where both legislative bodies have endorsed the proposed amendment are Wyoming, Rhode Island, Mississippi, Iowa, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Indiana, Arkansas, Texas, Delaware, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Illinois, Alabama, Kentucky, New Jersey, Nebraska, Louisiana, Montana, Nevada, Kansas, Florida, Utah, New Hampshire, Georgia, Virginia, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Idaho, New Mexico and North Dakota.

Dawn Over Algeria

Algeria's Beaches Scenes Of All Night Dances In Villas

ALGIERS (AP) — They dance from 9 p.m. to 5 o'clock in the morning in swank villas along Algeria's beaches.

No one can come later or leave earlier because of curfew.

In the evening twilight, armored cars slowly patrol the road, some 20 miles from Algiers. A territorial sentry leans lazily against a sandbag gun emplacement.

On the oval floor of the giant, flower-bedecked living room, some 40 French couples whirl to the latest American tunes.

"You see, mama said we should never trust these people," said a pretty brunette. "Ever since the gardener stole papa's gun and joined the guerrillas we never hire Arab servants. We import them from Spain."

"Feel my gun," said a young lawyer. "I had this suit cut so no one could tell I carry it. I never leave the house without it. You can't trust the Arabs."

On the terrace overlooking the Mediterranean glittering in the moonlight, a young lieutenant smokes his cigarette.

"Two years of this mess," he said. "I have wasted two years here. Don't ask me how the army feels. I don't represent the army. I hate it."

"It's all settled," an oil engineer said. He had just been to the new Sahara oilfields and beamed enthusiasm. "In two or three months the whole war will be over. We will negotiate with the rebels if necessary. We have to keep this country because of the oil. We will give the rebels home concessions but the oil must be ours."

"You see here 'papa's' Algeria," said a psychological warfare officer pointing to the dance floor. "Daughters and sons of rich settlers. Handsome, well-dressed, carefree. They think the army's job here is to make sure that Algeria of tomorrow will be the same bed of roses for them and their kind."

A searchlight stabbed the darkness. The guiding lights of a nearby airbase glittered in even strings.

At 5 a.m., girls in party dresses and their young men began to leave. They formed small convoys of two to three cars for it still was dark.

Slowly, dawn began to break over Algeria.

Venezuela Seeks Extradition Of Former Leader

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Authorities Friday began proceedings to extradite former president Marcos Perez Jimenez from the United States and try him here on charges ranging from embezzlement to murder.

Atty. Gen. Pablo Ruggeri filed the charges against Perez Jimenez after months of investigation. He is accused of abuse of power, embezzlement, election frauds, illegal arrest and murder during the time he was Venezuela's dictator before 1958.

Daily Devotional

Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me. — Psalm 51:10.

What better prayer for Sunday and the week end? This is a time of rest and the renewing of both the physical and spiritual man and our prayers and attitude are important. If a person wants to sharpen his sales strategy, he associates with people who sell and goes to trade conventions. If one desires to renew the spirit and improve his relations with both God and man, how can he find a better method than by going to church and Sunday school and by reading his Bible? Christ has promised to bless those who come together in His name.

Merciful God, help us all to renew our spiritual strength and to become better workers in Thy cause. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

'Y' Day Campers Receive Awards

More than 225 parents, campers and friends attended the Twin Cities YMCA-YWCA Day Camp program here yesterday when awards went to a number of campers.

Awards were presented to the best campers in riflery, archery, horseback riding, best all around camping groups, most improved campers and outstanding campers.

The boy's camp was divided into 10 groups led by counselors Ray Taunton, David Sprague, James Hudson, Donny Kurtz, Russell Marrow, Johnny Brothers, Freddy Cook, Morris Eaves, Jimmy Walker and Charles Holler.

Junior counselors were Jerry Howard, John Salisbury Jr., Jocko Holdsworth, Cliff Pearce, Kenneth Mulhearn and Mickey Cook.

Winn Dairies

Given A Rating

DODSON (Special)—The names and grades of the dairies operating in Winn Parish have been released according to the State Sanitary Code which requires a check every six months.

All three dairies which operate on Route One Dodson have been given a Grade-A rating, they are: Chlatak Dairy, owner and operator, Felix Chlatak; Parkers Dairy, owned and operated by M. E. Parker and Robertsons Dairy owned and operated by Lee Mack Robertson.

Silver and stainless spoons will air-dry in jig-time if you place them upside down on drain after hot sudsing and a hot water rinse.

Franklin Fire Protection Is Discussed

WINNSBORO (Special) — Positive action was taken on the Franklin parish rural fire protection program at a special police jury meeting in Winnsboro Monday night.

The program is to be financed by a one-half mill property tax which was passed on May 2, of this year to run for a period of five years.

Three fire trucks are to be purchased to be used for rural fire fighting. One will be placed at Winnsboro, one at Wisner, and one at Crowville. Volunteer crews will man the trucks. Winnsboro and Wisner already have volunteer organizations and a volunteer fire department is to be organized at Crowville.

At the special Monday night police jury meeting, a committee was appointed to meet with Chief H. L. Hales of the Monroe Fire Department, at a local hotel on Friday night. The meeting is for the purpose of compiling and combining specifications for advertising for bids for the purchase of the three fire trucks.

All Franklin parish truck dealers are invited to the meeting and each and every dealer will have an equal opportunity to submit bids.

Members of the committee which is scheduled to meet with Chief Hales Friday night are, A. J. Riser, president of the police jury; Woody R. Netherland, secretary; Robert F. Mulhearn, Mayor of Winnsboro; Allen Robinson, Winnsboro fire department chief; Homer E. Lowry, first assistant fire chief; and L. L. "Red" Miller, second assistant fire chief.

Mrs. Rushing Is Teen Town Board Member

LAKE PROVIDENCE (Special)

—The board members of Teen Town, Lake Providence recreation center have appointed Mrs. W. P. Rushing as the new counselor to fill the vacancy left after the resignation of Mrs. Fred Phillips. Mrs. Rushing will begin her duties on August 1st.

During the summer months the center is open during the evenings twice a week, on Wednesday and Friday. An average of sixty to eighty teenagers participate in the programs, including various games, dancing, and reading. Plans are being made for outdoor recreation projects on the grounds surrounding the center.

This organization is sponsored by the Carroll Woman's Club and financially assisted by the Town of Lake Providence. Teenagers from Transylvania Junior School, Monticello High School and Lake Providence High School are members of the youth center.

One Man Art Show Slated For Hamburg

CROSSETT, Ark. (Special) — Oil paintings by Maude Harris of Port Arthur, Texas, will be exhibited in the Ashley County Library in Hamburg beginning Thursday, July 23rd, until Thursday, July 30th, inclusive. The one-man show will be formally opened with a tea on Thursday afternoon, July 23rd, from 2:00 until 5:00 o'clock, and will be shown from 2:00 until 4:00 each afternoon throughout the week.

The artist, who will be on hand to greet the viewers, will be introduced by Mrs. Ann Veezey, Librarian. This well-known artist, is Mrs. Max Harris, Sr., the former Miss Maude Gardner, of near Hamburg. She has had her work shown in five states and has won many awards and much acclaim from art critics and judges. This is the first time her paintings have been hung in Hamburg, and should be of special interest to the people in the area, since most of the pictures in this selection have Southeast Arkansas settings. There will be no admission charges, and the public is cordially invited.

Annual Camp For Crippled Children Set

The second annual camp for crippled children will open at Camp Windywood near Alexandria tomorrow, with 51 campers expected to attend the first 2-week session and 87 the second.

Lions' clubs of Louisiana sponsor the camp.

It provides special facilities and care to enable handicapped children to participate in camping activities.

Nine children from the Monroe district will be among those attending the first session.

Alcee F. Jaxfield of Lake Charles, president of the Lions' League, said a number of last year's campers will be returning.

They will include Kenneth Fontenot of Opelousa, who will be a staff member this year, and Judy Sterling, Hornbeck; Linda Trinkle, DeRidder, and Jessie Powell, Bastrop, who will be counselors in training.

Camp director will be Miss Kathleen Gremillion of Marks-ville.

Of the children who will be attending, some are victims of polio, others of cerebral palsy, and still others are blind.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

79 Infants Die Of Suffocation By Plastic Bags

United Press International

Plastic bags have brought suffocations to at least 79 infants so far this year, a United Press International count showed Friday, in addition 17 persons have used the bags to commit suicide.

Many agencies and the federal government have warned parents to keep the thin plastic containers out of the reach of children.

Last month the Society of the Plastics Industry, Inc., launched a national advertising campaign in newspapers and over the radio to inform the public about the safe use of the bags, commonly used to package laundry and dry cleaning.

The industry warned that the plastic should never be used as makeshift covers in cribs or playpens or for mattresses or upholstery and should never be given to children as playthings. The bags should be torn or tied in knots and discarded.

Meanwhile fifteen states and 10 cities have considered legislation against the bags.

The African Gray Parrot is known to survive as long as 80 years in captivity.

Indians Break Pascual's Winning Streak, Top Nats

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland stopped Camilo Pascual's winning string at seven games Friday night by beating the Washington Senators 5-2 on Gary Bell's six-hitter and an attack that began with Jim Baxes' second inning home run.

Roy Sievers hit two home runs — his 15th and 16th — to spoil Bell's chance for a shutout. Sievers connected in the fourth inning and the ninth. Bell struck out seven and didn't walk a man as he evened his won-lost record at 9-9.

Baxes drove his 10th home run into the left field stands for the first hit off Pascual, who put the first five batters down in order, fanning three.

Minnie Minoza and George Strickland each got two of the in-

OVER CANADA

Laver, Emerson Pace Aussie Win

MONTREAL (AP) — With ailing Neale Fraser on the sidelines, Queenslanders Roy Emerson and Rod Laver carried Australia to a 2-0 lead over Canada in the American Zone Davis Cup semifinals Friday with straight-set singles victories.

Emerson turned back nervous Don Fontana, 28, of Toronto 6-2, 6-2, 4-4. Laver smashed Bedard, 27, of Sherbrooke, Que., 8-6, 6-3, 6-4.

The Australians now can clinch a final berth against Cuba by winning Saturday's doubles. Harry Hopman, the Australian captain, may decide to do some doubles experimenting since he is off to such an imposing start.

It's expected Emerson will play with Laver against Fontana and Bedard. Another possible Aussie combination is Laver and Bob Mark, who were runners-up to Fraser and Emerson for the Wimbledon championship.

It was learned that Fraser, the

Surprising A's Tag Sox For Fifth Straight

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City ran its winning streak to five straight Friday night with another hitting spree that defeated the Boston Red Sox 3-1.

The A's pounded Bosox pitching for 12 hits including Dick Williams' fourth home run in the last four games and his ninth of the season.

Johnny Kucks scattered nine hits in chalking up his fourth victory against six defeats. The loss was marked against Frank Sullivan.

Williams' home run came in the fifth and in the sixth the A's drove Sullivan to the showers by leading 5 bases on three singles with one out. Mike Fornieles took over and struck out Kucks and Russ Snyder to prevent a score.

Ted Williams, pinch hitting for Fornieles in the seventh with one out and two on, fouled out. Frank Bauman took over the Boston pitching and finished the game without further damage.

Johnson Gets Decision In Video Battle

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Alonzo Johnson, the former barber from Braddock, Pa., scored a unanimous decision over Willie Pastrano in their 10-round televised bout Friday night at Freedom Hall.

The heavy-fisted Johnson had his smaller opponent from Miami in trouble from the opening round when he began working on Pastrano's body.

A pair of punishing rights and lefts early in the seventh round staggered Pastrano but he did not go down.

Johnson, who has won 13 straight, renewed the attack again in the eighth and began concentrating on Pastrano's right eye.

Pastrano, who has a reputation for being extremely light on his feet, was effective only in the fifth and sixth rounds when he managed to shake Johnson with two sizzling rights to the head.

Johnson, ranked seventh by the National Boxing Assn., suffered a bruise over his right eye.

He scored most of his points by carrying the fight to Pastrano and staying away from the little heavyweight's flickering left.

Pastrano, who now has a record of 48-8-5, appeared to tire in the fifth round and was unable to do much damage thereafter. He weighed 167 pounds against 183½ for Johnson who now has an 18-1 record.

Referee Paul Machney scored it 47-44 for Johnson. Judge Sid Baer had it 47-46 and Judge Walter Beck scored it 48-45. The Associated Press had it 48-42 in favor of Johnson.

Pastrano showed the effect of a long layoff. He fought last on Feb. 24 and his timing and power showed it.

cual in the fifth and Chuck Stobbs hurled the eighth, neither yielding a run.

Kemmerer loaded the bases on walks in the sixth, but Rocky Colavito fouled out for the third out. Stobbs filled them again in the eighth, but Strickland struck out to end the inning.

Tito Francona, Cleveland's leading hitter, was out of action with a pulled thigh muscle.

BEATS GREEN

Olmedo Reaches Net Semifinals

HAVERFORD, Pa. (AP)—Alex Olmedo, Wimbledon champion from Los Angeles and the top U.S. hope for retaining the Davis Cup, advanced to the semifinal round of the Pennsylvania Lawn Tennis Championship Friday, defeating Mike Green of UCLA 6-3, 5-7, 6-4.

The tightly contested match was interrupted twice by rain, and was a battle right down to the finish.

Green, of Miami, Fla., took the second set by breaking service in the 12th game. He lost his service in the fifth game of the third set, but battled back before Olmedo was able to finish him off in the 10th game. Green lost when he backhanded a return of service out of court.

Saturday Olmedo will face Ian Vermaak of South Africa, seeded No. 2 on the foreign list, who surprised by defeating fourth-seeded Earl Buchholz Jr. of St. Louis 10-8, 8-6.

Buchholz lost the first set after three times being within one point of winning at 6-5, 40-love. He was forced into five straight errors in losing that game, and then Vermaak broke through in the 17th game with a cross-court passing shot to lead 9-8 and followed up by taking his service game for 10-8.

Buchholz, a Davis Cup possibility, also failed to hold leads of 4-1 and 5-2 in the second set. Vermaak rallied beautifully to win, breaking through service in the 13th game and winning in the 14th with a backhand volley.

Ramanathan Krishnan, a Davis Cup player from India, and Barry MacKay, U.S. Cup competitor, also reached the semifinals in the 60th renewal of the event at the Merion Cricket Club. They will meet Saturday.

Krishnan, 22, won his quarter-final match 10-8, 6-4, over Vic Seixas, former U.S. Davis Cup star and seven times the winner of this state title. MacKay, defending champion from Dayton, Ohio, eliminated left-handed Abe Segal, South Africa, 8-6, 6-3.

Krishnan won the opening set by scoring the only breakthrough of service in the 18th game. Seixas, a Philadelphian, warded off one set point with a high volley which caught the Indian running the wrong way. But he lost the second set point with a backhand volley that just missed the line by inches.

Tommy Davis Among 49ers' New Talent

MORAGA, Calif. (AP)—Red-haired Irishman Howard Hickey, who moved up this year from assistant to coach of the San Francisco 49ers, Saturday greets his 1959 rookie crop plus some familiar faces.

In the bunch of newcomers, the 41-year-old graduate of the pro playing ranks hopes to find defensive talent for the line and backfield.

Last season, when they finished fourth in the Western Division of the National Football League, the 49ers were vulnerable to a running attack.

Three of the first five draft choices for this year were big linemen. The other two were halfbacks who had shown collegiate defensive ability.

Hickey tomorrow greets 30 rookies and 16 veterans. An additional 15 veterans report to the St. Mary's Camp Sunday, Aug. 2. Five rookies arrive on Aug. 15 after the College All-Stars play Baltimore in Chicago.

One of the big tasks facing Hickey will be finding a place-kicker to replace Gordy Soltau, who retired after nine years with the club.

Chief booting aspirants are veterans Bobby Luna, Bill Atkins, John Wittenborn and Denny Morris plus rookie fullback Tommy Davis from Louisiana State.

Ired Suggs Cards First Round 73

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
MOUNT PROSPECT, Ill. (AP)—Louise Suggs, still burning up after her disqualification last week in the Alliance Open, Friday bore down with a subpar 73 to take a 2-stroke lead in the first round of the $20,000 Mount Prospect Women's Open.

The wiry little veteran pro from Sea Island, Ga., said in an interview that she still was seeing red "after being kicked out at alliance (Ohio) for not attending a sponsors' cocktail party."

"You can bet your eyetooth that I want to win this one, and not just for the $6,500 first prize," she said. "It will help me cool off if I do."

Miss Suggs, third leading money winner of the Ladies PGA with $11,674, toured the snug 6,241-yard, par 37-73 — 74 Mount Prospect Course in 37:36-73. She dropped a 12-foot birdie putt on the 10th and finished out in straight pars.

Only two strokes behind in the chase for the largest winning purse ever of erred the distaff side were Patty Berg with a 35-40-73 and Mickey Wright, second top money winner with $12,482 after taking the Alliance $2,200 first award, with 38-37-75. Grouped at 76 were Mary Lena Falk, 39-37; Norman Shook, Mount Prospect pro, with 36-40; Beverly Hanson 40-36, and Peggy Kirk Bell, 36-40.

Seven pros were bracketed at 77, including Betsy Rawls, No. 1 on the LPGA financial list with $13,154. Others were Gloria Fecht, Betty Hicks, Muriel MacKenzie, Barbara Romack, Marlene Hagge and Barbara Rotvig.

Topping the nine amateurs in the field of 44 was Mrs. Frank Stranahan, with 81.

The best start of the day was made by Miss Berg. She eagled the 430-yard second hole with a 3, sticking a 3-iron shot 6 feet from the cup. She was 4 under par going to the 176-yard ninth. Then she hit a creek on her tee shot and took a double bogey 5. From then on she struggled to get a 40 on the back nine.

Wilkinson Says Tatum's Death 'Great Shock'

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—University of Oklahoma football Coach Bud Wilkinson said Friday, "You lose something that's hard to replace when you lose a friend you have known 20 years."

Wilkinson was referring to the death Thursday night of Jim Tatum, North Carolina coach. "We were good friends," Wilkinson said. "Jim and I first met when we were young coaches working 45 miles apart; He at Cornell, I at Syracuse."

"Later we were together in the Navy and worked together, too. His sudden death was a great shock to everybody."

Wilkinson, who came to Norman in 1946 as Tatum's chief assistant, said he will fly to Chapel Hill, N. C. for Tatum's funeral.

A's Decline Blamed For Pilot's Illness

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Manager Harry Craft of the Kansas City Athletics is in a hospital recuperating from fatigue brought on in part by nervous tension that developed when his club went into an abrupt decline earlier this month.

Since Craft went into the hospital Wednesday morning, the A's have won three straight and moved up to sixth place in the standings under direction of third base Coach Bob Swift.

"Everything is lovely," Swift said as he relaxed in the clubhouse Friday. "Managing is a cinch when you get pitching, hitting and fielding."

"Winning those games is just about the best medicine I could get," Craft commented from his hospital room with a smile.

"You know, when most people are in a hospital they receive get well cards, but not a manager. I've got just one card here telling me to stay sick."

Monroe Invades Shreveport For Legion Playoff Opener

Monroe's American Legion Juniors, straight from two stunning upset victories over Ruston to win the fifth district title, invade Shreveport tonight at 7:30 for the first of a three-game regional series with fourth district champion Industrial Sheet Metal.

Beaten in two regular season meetings with Ruston's 1958 state runnerup squad, Coach Ralph "Red" Sims' Brown-Rivers-Scogin combination battled back in the playoffs with a 7-6 decision in the 11-inning finale to capture the crown.

Industrial Sheet Metal of Shreveport eliminated Minden, 4-1, Monday in the third of a three-game series to wrap up the fourth district title.

The second game of the series is scheduled in Monroe Monday night and a third contest, if needed, will follow there Tuesday night.

Monroe, with 12 wins during regular season play and four playoff victories, stands at 16-4. The

Howton Key To Browns' New Offense

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Coach Paul Brown says he has a definite strategy for using Billy Howton, the fleet end for whom Brown gave up two players to Green Bay.

Here's Brown's plan: Howton will be flanked wide to one side, Ray Renfro to the other. Then there will be either a "tight" end in close blocking position or a "slot" man, set out, but well inside the flanker.

"With Renfro wide one way, Howton the other, let 'em rotate their defense against us if they want, and give us a one-on-one situation on the other side," said Brown.

This would mean the defense would be covering either Renfro or Howton with only one man. "I've been looking forward to just that," Brown smiled.

In time trials Thursday Howton did 40 yards in 4.9 in full uniform. The speedy Renfro did it in 4.7 but was edged by Jim Brown in 4.5.

tossed three hitless innings in relief to preserve the final victory over Ruston.

American Legion rules limit a pitcher to three appearances and 12 innings within a three-day period. The ruling applies to regional, sectional and championship competition.

For American Legion playoffs, the state is divided into four regions, with Monroe and Industrial Metal vying for the Region Three championship. The winner of the series will then face the kingpin of Region Four, New Orleans, perennial winner with 27 championships since 1927, will represent the first district in Region One. All regional championships must be determined by July 29.

Monroe was state champion in 1952, 1953 and 1957.

Rain Washes Out Friday's La-Ark Slate

Rain, biggest winner in the La-Ark League this year, washed out last night's two-game schedule but games slated today at Legion Stadium and Oak Grove were still on at last report.

The Monroe Sports are slated to play Oak Grove in a doubleheader there this afternoon while L. E. Frith, West Monroe president, said the Vols would play either Bastrop or Dubach at 7:30 tonight in Legion Stadium.

West Monroe was to have met Bastrop here last night while Crossett was scheduled at Dubach.

Sunday, Monroe will host West Monroe, Bastrop will be at Dubach and Oak Grove at Crossett. These games close out the regular season.

FOUR-HITTER

Braves Win, 8-0, Behind Pizarro

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Milwaukee fireballer Juan Pizarro struck out 12 and surrendered only four hits in blanking Pittsburgh 8-0 Friday night for his second straight shutout over the Pirates. The 22-year-old southpaw, who blanked the Pirates on two hits and 11 strikeouts earlier this month, was a complete master in pitching the staggering Braves to their second triumph in the last 10 games.

Pizarro boosted his strikeout total for the year to 87 in 79 1-3 innings by getting every player in the Pittsburgh batting order at least once. He struck out the side in the fifth inning and he retired two batters by the same route in the third, fourth and eighth innings.

The Braves wasted no time in jumping on Pittsburgh southpaw Harvey Haddix, who hurled 12 perfect innings before losing a 1-0 decision in the 13th to the Braves in his last appearance in Milwaukee May 26.

First baseman Joe Adcock, who ruined that pitching masterpiece with a clout over the fence sent the Braves out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning by blasting his 10th homer of the year with Billy Bruton on base.

Adcock also helped the Braves in a four-run fifth inning by crossing up Pittsburgh's strategy and driving in another run. Bobby Avila led off the fifth with his second single and was sacrificed to second. Hank Aaron was walked intentionally to set up a possible doubleplay. Adcock then singled, scoring Avila. A walk, a sacrifice fly and a double by Andy Paiko brought in three more runs.

The Braves added their final two runs in the eighth on a single by Pizarro and doubles by Bruton and Aaron.

Pizarro, who earlier this year was farmed out to Louisville, to get into shape, collected his third victory in four decisions, while striking out 11 or more batters for the third time.

Haddix, who was lifted in the Braves' fifth inning uprising, was charged with his eighth defeat against seven victories.

George Grist, Hodge's attorney, said the original contract was signed with Yetman Sept. 24, 1957. He said Yetman assigned a third interest to Hayutin and a third to Freeman, Wichita oil man and attorney, and Wakefield assigned 5 per cent of his interest to a Wichita oil man, and 3 per cent of it to Gamelson, Wichita attorney.

Hodge contends he has received only $3,400 from his handlers since he turned professional in May 1958.

The Wichitan, Golden Gloves heavyweight champion as an amateur fighter and former Olympic wrestler, recently told newsmen he was through with pro boxing.

His attorney indicated Friday Hodge would be in position to change his mind, if he wins damages and contract freedom in his court fight.

Al Smith's Homer In Ninth Beats Orioles, Wilhelm, 2-1

CHICAGO (AP) — Al Smith's home run in the ninth inning carried the league-leading Chicago White Sox to a 2-1 victory over the Baltimore Orioles and Hoyt Wilhelm Friday night.

Baffled by Wilhelm's knuckler through the first seven innings, the Sox broke through for a game-tying run in the eighth on a walk and a two-out triple by Nellie Fox and wrapped it up on Smith's eighth homer with one out in the ninth.

The triumph enabled the Sox to maintain their half game lead over second-place Cleveland which defeated Washington 5-2.

Billy Pierce, clipped for six hits in the first four innings including Bob Nieman's 11th homer, held Baltimore to a lone single through the last five frames. The chunky so-thpaw evened his record at 11-11.

Wilhelm was a master through the first seven innings. He held the Sox to three hits—two of them by Fox—and was coasting on a 1-0 lead provided by Nieman's

Phils Beat Reds On Homer, 2 To 1

CINCINNATI (AP) — Carl Sawatski's pinchhome ruined the home debut of young Jay Hook Friday night and gave Philadelphia's Phils a 2-1 ninth inning victory over Cincinnati's Reds.

But it took the combined relief pitching of Taylor Phillips and Ray Semproch to clinch it.

In the Reds' last bid, Frank Robinson and Jim Pendleton singled off Phillips with one out. That brought in Semproch who fanned pinch hitter Whitey Lockman and got Willie Jones on an easy infield putout.

Hook had pitched five-hit shut-out ball up to the ninth and after walking Gene Freese had disposed of the next two Phils' batters in the ninth.

Neither side had scored until Eddie Kasko, second string Cin-

Rain Forces Postponement At Highland

Yesterday afternoon's rain forced postponement of the Highland Park Country Club four-ball tournament and pro-am event until next weekend, club golf pro James Auld said last night.

Auld said that anyone who has qualified can do so again if he wishes and that any new players who wish to enter may do so.

Championship qualifying and the pro-am tourney will be held next Friday, Auld continued.

About nine holes of the pro-am event were played yesterday before rain forced a halt.

Bosox Player Blasts Mates' Indifference

BOSTON (AP) — The Christian Science Monitor Friday quoted a Boston Red Sox player as saying the last place team has too many athletes who are just going through the motions.

In a front page, full-column story by sports writer Ed Rumlout of Kansas City, the paper tackled the question of what the Red Sox need to become a first division outfit.

The story did not identify the player but added "since he was an experienced, intelligent player, it could be accepted as the players' viewpoint."

In his analysis, the unnamed athlete was quoted as saying:

"First of all, we have too many players with the wrong attitude. Too many men in key spots just don't care whether school keeps or not. They're simply going through the motions, playing out the season. Already, they're talking about what they're going to do in the off season."

"I'd like to see a manager here who is tough, real tough. The club needs shaking up. I thought perhaps Billy Jurges could do it. But now I'm no sure... a manager must rule with an iron fist."

"Mechanically, the Red Sox need a better defense in a couple of spots. We need a better double play combination at the middle of the infield. We need a first baseman who can hit the left field wall at Fenway Park."

"Our pitching staff needs pruning. We have about four fellows who really want to pitch and win. The others act as if they were saving their arms. For what? They're hurting the team and themselves. Yet don't seem to care."

The story also quoted the player as saying the Red Sox ought to pick out four pitchers and rotate them regularly as starters, use a starter occasionally in relief and play the younger squad members more—keeping some of the veterans in reserve for pinch hitting.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane University's football team this year will be minus the services of one of its most dependable halfbacks, 20-year-old Percy Colon of Norco, La.

Greenie Head Coach Andy Pilney announced Friday that Colon, who had been counted on heavily for the coming season, was dropped out of school because of scholastic difficulties.

Colon was rated as one of the best defensive halfbacks in the Southeastern Conference last season. He was in his sophomore year.

As top ground gainer last year Colon averaged 4.5 yards per carry and was the second highest scorer on the Tulane team. He started at left halfback in every game last season and averaged about 50 minutes playing time per game.

Rayville Little Boys Tilt Reset For Tonight At 7

RAYVILLE, La. (Special) — Rain forced postponement of yesterday's scheduled game in the district northern division Little Boys Baseball tournament here and the tilt has been reset for today.

Rayville and Oak Grove, slated for last night, will meet this evening at 7. The tournament will be continued Monday.

Lake Providence (0-2) and Delhi (1-2) are already out of the double-elimination tournament.

Rayville is the only unbeaten team with a 2-0 mark. Oak Grove is 1-1 and Tallulah is 2-1.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ray Wietecha, a center, and Jim Patton, a defensive halfback, have signed 1959 contracts with the New York Giants. Both were All-National Football League choices last season.

CONDITION WORSENS

Tatum's Wife Hospitalized With Virus Infection Also

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP)—A mysterious contagious virus killed North Carolina football Coach Jim Tatum Thursday night and his wife Edna was hospitalized Friday with what appeared to be the same ailment.

She had been confined to her home as Tatum, 46, lay dying, and it was thought she would recover. Her condition worsened, however, and she was admitted to North Carolina Memorial Hospital.

Physicians performed an autopsy Friday and the hospital issued this statement: "The doctors have reviewed their findings in the case of Jim Tatum and came to the conclusion that it was a common type of virus that affects many people in a mild form."

"However, in the case of Tatum there was an overwhelming infection of the virus that affected vital organs of his body and they ceased to function."

Tatum, the 240-pound coach who rose from a sandlot player to the top of his profession, died in the same hospital on the eve of what he hoped might be "my best season ever."

His sturdy frame was wracked by fever associated with a red rash that poisoned his body.

Tatum, facing his fourth year as University of North Carolina head football coach, had entered the hospital last Saturday. He had been called home because of the death of a sister. At the time he and Mrs. Tatum were visiting in Canada with Clemson College Coach Frank Howard at the home of Coach D. C. (Peabody) Wilker of the Montreal Alouettes of the Canadian Football League.

His condition grew rapidly worse. Physicians said the virus overwhelmed him and affected vital organs.

The funeral service will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Chapel Hill Methodist Church.

Physicians performed an autopsy in an effort to identify the virus which attacked the Tatums. The hospital said that a preliminary part of the autopsy was completed but that detailed work might take from six to eight weeks.

Officials at this old university were too shocked to speculate upon a successor to Tatum, who had come home to his alma mater here in 1956 from nine years at the University of Maryland where he had produced winning teams and been named the nation's coach of the year in 1953. His Maryland teams played in three bowl games and the 1953 team was voted national champion.

Tatum, a giant of a man and a familiar figure to football fans as he tramped the sidelines in a broad-brimmed, fawn-colored hat, frequently was a controversial figure but never without words. His over-all coach record was 100 victories, 35 defeats, 7 ties.

"I talk too much," he was free to admit as he went right on talking.

Dr. H. D. Byrd, president of the University of Maryland and himself a former coach of the Terrapins, said of Sunny Jim: "He undoubtedly had one of the best organizing minds in the business. He was a wonderful fellow and one couldn't ask any more than what he did for the administration."

Tatum succeeded George Barclay here in 1956. The previous season had been a losing one. Barclay, a teammate of Tatum's here in the early 1930s under Carl Snavely, is on the present staff. He has served as an assistant at Oberlin, Dartmouth, VMI and Maryland and as head coach at Washington and Lee.

Other assistants include: Emmett Cheek, chief scout and former Guilford College coach; Ed Kessler, a former Maryland player who has been an assistant at VMI, W&L and Maryland; Jim Hickey, a former coach at Hampden-Sydney College; Bud Carson, a former Tarheel back; Ernie Williamson, former head coach at the University of the South; and Fred Tullai, a former Maryland player who coached freshmen here one year.

Tatum was named an All-Southern conference tackle in his student days here. He was graduated

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hospitalized Gil Hodges of the Los Angeles Dodgers looked at his injured right leg Friday and cracked:

"Don't be surprised if I sneak out of here tomorrow."

The first baseman injured the leg in a slide Thursday night against the Chicago Cubs. He was carried from the field on a stretcher and for a time it was feared there was a bone break.

Further examination showed it was a pulled muscle.

Hodges, who leads the Dodgers in runs batted in with 61, may be out a week.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Bill Lenoir of Tucson, Ariz., and John Karabasz of Coral Gables, Fla., will be the finalists Saturday for the singles championship in the 18-and-under division of the Western Open Junior and Boys' Tennis Championships.

Lenoir, seeded No. 1 in the tournament, defeated Ralph Howe of Haverford, Pa. 6-2, 6-1 in semi-final play Friday. Howe was unranked. Karabasz, seeded No. 8, beat Frank Bertram of Austin, Tex., seeded No. 9, 7-5, 6-4.

Top-seeded Charles Pararell Jr. of San Juan, P. R., will meet Jim Beste of Baton Rouge, La., seeded No. 2, in the final of the 15-and-under division Saturday.

After serving as assistant to Don Faurot at Iowa Pre-Flight School, Tatum became coach at Jacksonville (Fla.) Naval Air Station. He transferred to Oklahoma in 1946 and coached his Sooners into the Gator Bowl. Next came his nine years at Maryland.

Hodges' Injury Pulled Muscle

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Hospitalized Gil Hodges of the Los Angeles Dodgers looked at his injured right leg Friday and cracked:

"Don't be surprised if I sneak out of here tomorrow."

The first baseman injured the leg in a slide Thursday night against the Chicago Cubs. He was carried from the field on a stretcher and for a time it was feared there was a bone break.

Further examination showed it was a pulled muscle.

Hodges, who leads the Dodgers in runs batted in with 61, may be out a week.

WOMAN'S WORLD

Series Of Parties Honor Miss McDonald, Fiance

Continuing the prenuptial courtesies honoring Miss Donna McDonald and her fiance, Marion D. Lewis, whose wedding will be an event of August 8, was a barbecue supper given Friday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Beckett, 2208 Beechwood Drive.

Co-hosts for the 7 o'clock supper were Mr. and Mrs. Will F. Grafton.

A bride's nosegay fashioned of white flowers, showered with white satin streamers formed a centerpiece for the dining table. Arrangements of pink crape myrtle and orchid lilies were used elsewhere about the rooms.

A gift from the hosts was presented to the betrothed couple following dinner. Hi-Fi music provided entertainment for remainder of the informal evening.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McDonald, parents of the bride-elect; Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, the prospective bridegroom's parents; Miss Martha Burns, Miss Carol Ulmer, Miss Frances Jones, Miss Mary Lou McClendon and Elton Upshaw, William A. LeDoux, Billy King and Guy Lino.

DESSERT PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Birdsong Jr. entertained at an 8 o'clock dessert Thursday night in their home, 1305 Spencer, in courtesy to Miss McDonald and Mr. Lewis.

A mound of lavender asters graced the mantel and other summer flowers were used in bouquets about the rooms.

Miss McDonald wore a beige silk dress and a corsage of white carnations. A gift from the hosts

Family Party Given In Honor Of Bride-Elect

Miss Margaret Robinson, bride-elect of Paul Fleming was honored at a family party July 18 in the home of Mrs. J. O. Fleming. Hostesses were Mrs. O. G. Fleming of Lake Charles and Mrs. Billy Fleming, Baton Rouge, assisted by Mrs. A. J. Hattaway of West Monroe.

A pink and white scheme was employed in the appointments and an arrangement of garden flowers graced the linen covered gift table.

Miss Robinson, who wore a slate gray cotton frock was presented a corsage of white carnations by the hostesses. Following the opening of the gifts a dessert course was served.

Guests included Mrs. M. E. Robinson, mother of the bride-elect; Mrs. J. O. Fleming, mother of the prospective bridegroom; Mrs. Virgil Fleming, Mrs. J. W. Fleming, Mrs. Beulah Fields, Mrs. L. D. Stark, Mrs. Ronnie Stark, Mrs. Tom Hobgood, Mrs. Gordon Bernice, Mrs. Lawley Jones, Miss Janice Becton, Mrs. Charles Magown and Mrs. A. J. Hattaway.

TABLECLOTH SAVER

Smooth a piece of transparent plastic film under each child's dinner plate. It gives a nearly invisible protection to the tablecloth, and can be washed afterward with a whisk of a well-sudged cloth or sponge.

Italian Designer Drops Hemlines In Fall Fashions

By SUE CARDOZO

FLORENCE (AP)—Capucci dropped double hems Wednesday night and all but ran away with the Florence showing of fall and winter fashions.

The young couturier's collection had a big impact on the buyers and fashions writers who have spent the past three days watching the newest Italian fashions in the historic old Pitti Palace.

His styles had an over-all look which seemed to hark close to what Italian designers have been trying to achieve.

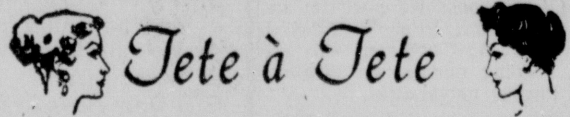

Capucci's collection is a pageant of hemlines, consistently low. One outstanding costume has two tunics or tubed skirts are threaded on the skirt, another on a jacket or a nine-tenths length coat.

The distance between the hems is either several inches, or from the top of the thigh to below the knee. Floor-length gowns are worn with knee-length satin smocks. The Capucci line is straight — strictly vertical — with elongated tunics or stretched out middie hemlines, consistently low. Sometimes the tunics or tubed skirts are threaded on the skirt, another on a jacket or a nine-tenths length land and tunics a waistless sheath.

Mrs. Shirley Smale, president of Beta Pi chapter; Mrs. Ann Bagby, from International staff at Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Doris Bolin, president of Monroe Charter chapter and Miss Helen Johnson, of Beta Pi chapter.

SLATED TO LEAVE SUNDAY for a month's vacation in New Jersey are Mrs. James W. Schonlau and daughters, Lisa, Claire, Martha and Deborah. They plan to divide their time at the Jersey shore and as guests of Mrs. Schonlau's mother, Mrs. J. D. Ten Eyck at Franklin, N. J.

MR. AND MRS. E. N. THOMPSON have returned from St. Louis, Mo., where they spent several days while attending the St. Louis vs. Milwaukee baseball games.

HOME FROM A TEN DAY VISIT in New Orleans is Miss Clair Solomon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Solomon, 209 Country Club Road. While in New Orleans, Miss Solomon was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Ernest Dampf and also visited the campus of Newcomb college preparatory for her entrance there in September as a freshman student.

JAMES PHILLIP is the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert P. Dawkins of Dallas, Tex., for their second son born recently. Mrs. Dawkins is the former Marilyn Rolfeigh of this city, daughter of Mrs. Louis Rolfeigh who has just returned from a six week visit in Dallas with the Dawkins family. Mr. Dawkins is the son of Mrs. Herbert Dawkins, Farmerville.

RETURNING FROM A TWO WEEK vacation in New Orleans where they visited relatives and friends are Misses Janet and Debra Ferracci. While there they were entertained at several parties on the Lake Pontchartrain beach.

AN EXTENSIVE VACATION trip west is planned by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hulin, who with their daughter, Barbara and grandson, Howard Smith of Shreveport, left Wednesday. Their itinerary will include stops at Colorado Springs, Colo., Las Vegas, Nev. and Los Angeles, Calif. and a visit with their son, Jarrell and his family in Whittier, Calif.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT IRBY and son, Scotty, Gordon Avenue, and Mrs. Irby's father, Benson Scott of West Monroe, have returned from a two week vacation spent in Washington, D. C. and New York City, and other points in the east.

Prenuptial Parties Fete Miss Ludwig

In courtesy to Miss Jean Ludwig, whose marriage to Hardy Palmer Jr., will be an event of August 8, a quartet of hostesses entertained with a kitchen shower Saturday afternoon, July 18 in the home of Mrs. J. R. Dawkins at Farmerville.

Hostesses in addition to Mrs. Dawkins were Mrs. Harvey Roan, Mrs. Tazwell W. Baird and Mrs. Robert Dawkins.

The honoree wore a pale blue organdy dress and a corsage of white gladiolus, a gift of the hostesses.

An arrangement of white carnations and yellow roses centered the dining table and yellow carnations were used throughout the rooms of the home.

After the honoree opened her gifts refreshments were served. Invited guests included Mrs. Guy Ludwig, mother of the bride-elect; Miss Lydia Hall, Miss Nancy Lee, Miss Eddy Jo Meeks, Miss Linda Kay Allen, Miss Shirley Morgan, Miss Barbara Auger and Miss Jo Ellen Tallye, Farmerville. Miss Carolyn Cummings, Monroe; Mrs. Lamar Haddox, Oak Grove; Miss Ann Mabry, Ruston; Mrs. Revis Fowler, Lisbon; Misses Harriett and Marsha Kay Clinton, Clay.

PARTIES CONTINUE

Another in the series of prenuptial courtesies honoring Miss Ludwig, was a party given Monday afternoon, July 20 when Mrs. H. P. Clinton and daughters, Misses Marsha Kay and Harriett Clinton entertained in their home at Clay.

The honoree chose a cotton frock of white embroidered in shades of green and was presented a corsage of carnations by the hostesses.

Summer garden flowers decorated the rooms where at the close of the informal afternoon refreshments were

Get-Acquainted Party Honors New Resident

A get-acquainted party honoring Mrs. Jimmy Walden, who recently moved here from Texas, was given Wednesday afternoon by Misses Linda Mangum and Bette Roberts at the home of Miss Mangum on Elizabeth St. in West Monroe.

Light refreshments were served by the hostesses during the informal afternoon.

Millions Spent Annually On Vacation Souvenirs

Whether you're at the top of the Empire State Building in New York, in the depths of a cave in Virginia or taking a tour through Forest Lawn Cemetery in California, chances are you'll come back home with a souvenir to show where you've been.

More than three and a half million people, every year, who travel around the United States, spend the staggering sum of $173 million in trinkets — mementos bearing the names of the places they visit, just so they can show them to friends and relatives, according to an article in the August issue of a leading magazine.

No one seems to be immune to the irresistible attraction of souvenir hunting, not even royal heads of state. Queen Elizabeth, on a visit to the tallest building in the world in 1957, the magazine article points out, became fascinated with a jumbo pencil that bore a banner emblazoned with the name of the edifice, and took two back to London to her children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne. She was met with disappointment because her own mother, on a similar trip to New York, three years previously, had returned to England with the same souvenirs.

The souvenir business has become big business and the importing of souvenirs a major part of foreign trade. You may discover, 2,000 miles from home, that the bracelet you bought in the South actually was made in Japan or Hong Kong.

Souvenirs that glitter or are hand decorated, seem to have the greatest attraction for the buyer, who spends on the average anywhere from 25 cents to $1 for an item. Honey, jam, preserves, ash trays, T-shirts for the kids, dies, replicas of landmarks, and dozens of other manufactured products make up the stock that appeals to the souvenir hunter. Candy is and always has been a best seller. Now, novelties come in for a play, too. Down in Miami, at the Seagraves, the magazine says, teeth, salvaged from sharks that have died on the premises, are polished up and sold to tourists.

Since more and more people are traveling today and have more places to visit, it is not surprising to learn that the souvenir business increases 17 percent each year. You probably are among those vacationers who'll have fun this summer, dropping the millions of dollars on trinkets, at the same time making life pleasant and profitable for the purveyors of your "take home" mementos.

MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED Your Baby And Mine

The differences in ideas between this and the last generation crop up to complicate the nice relationship which should exist between young mothers and their mothers-in-law.

Mrs. M. B. writes, "Please answer some questions about baby care so I can show them to my mother-in-law. She thinks the baby should be picked up and held and played with even when he is contented lying in his crib. If he so much as makes a sound, she rushes to him and picks him up. She does this so often that I get mad as hops when she is here. Don't you think a baby can be made tired just by too much handling?"

"She also thinks I don't diaper him rightly. She says the three-cornered diaper stays more snugly on the baby than the square one. When she puts one on, she always puts it that way and it annoys me.

"She wants me to offer him a drink of water every half hour in order that he can have enough fluid these warm days. I think he gets a lot of fluid in his formula. I give him water occasionally, but he doesn't always want it.

"I can't be very dictatorial as this is my first baby and she had five! I go want you to set me straight."

I congratulate you on wanting to see both sides of the question and know whether you are right or merely confused. Let's say right now that there is often an unconscious struggle between mother and grandmother for the attention and affection of the baby and many of the things a grandmother might do would be because she loved the baby, loved to hold it, loved to wait on it, rather than because it was absolutely necessary.

Try to see that side of it, too, and not be too harsh toward her. I do think a baby can be fatigued by constant handling. Better to sit by him, enjoying his antics and wait upon him only when he needs it.

The square diaper has the advantage of being snug about the waist and loose through the crotch and it has earned its popularity because of that. It is more like a small pair of pants when put on correctly and does not bind the child as the three-cornered one did. Show the grandmother how the square one is put on. She may be doing what is the easiest for her to do.

The baby needs fluid and should have an opportunity several times a day to have a drink of cool water.

New Textbooks To Speed-Up Reading Habits

NEW YORK (UPI)—Now John can improve his reading by a new do-it-yourself method.

This fall, for the first time, textbooks will show youngsters exactly what reading skills they need, why and how to acquire them. The books, designed for the seventh and eighth grades, emphasize self-help, and include chapters on reading comprehension, wordless reading, faster reading, interpreting between the lines, and use of the dictionary.

For example, in dealing with interpreting ideas, the book shows how to interpret quotations from William Shakespeare, such as "the fringed curtains of thine eye advance," (open your eyes) and "I am all the daughters of my father's house and all the brothers too" (I am an only child). Then it points out that Shakespeare used such phrases to provoke the reader into using his imagination.

One chapter on speeding up reading explains that just as a person eats by the forkful, he can learn to read by the eye-ful — in groups of words instead of word by word.

"Called 'Reading With Purpose' and 'Reading For Significance,' the books were written by two educators, Ullin W. Leavell and Alex M. Caughran, who direct reading clinics at Virginia and Purdue universities.

"Until now, public school textbooks have by-passed the pupil on what he is supposed to be learning about reading," said Dr. Leo Gans, editor-in-chief of the firm which published the texts.

"This has been a secret between textbook authors and teachers, told only in teachers' guide books," he said.

"Now the pupil will know what

VACATION NEEDS

• SUN GLASSES
Aron's Pharmacy

is expected of him instead of merely going through classroom exercises that may be meaningful to the teacher but meaningless to him."

In addition to six chapters on developing reading skills, the texts contain 30 feature stories adapted from articles that appeared in national magazines or anthologies and practice exercises after each story. The stories revolve around moral themes.

From classroom tests in New Jersey, Virginia, and Indiana, the educators found that the books increased rates of reading and comprehension.

Why? "Because they furnish motivation, identification of needs, and recognition that the student can improve," said Walter Mason, senior editor supervising the publication of the books.

Long Delays Take Off For K.C. To Shop

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Louisiana Gov. Earl K. Long twice postponed his departure from Denver Friday to do a little shopping.

Long sent his driver-bodyguard, state police Lt. Bill Wisner, to Kansas City with the governor's car and most of the Long luggage Friday morning.

Long's departure for Kansas City—and a visit Saturday with former president Truman—had been scheduled for 8 a.m., by car. Then Long decided to take a 12:40 p.m. plane and postponed it again for an 8 p.m. flight that would get him to Kansas City about midnight.

The shopping tour was to buy a saddle, a bride "and other stuff you get best in Denver," the governor said.

He spent much of the morning with reporters, discussing plans for the Truman meeting. He said they are going to talk over Democratic possibilities for the presidential nomination next year.

Colorado's governor, Steve McNichols, also a Democrat, who returned Thursday from a trip to Russia, paid a courtesy call on the 63-year-old Long around noon.

He said later he spent about five minutes with Long. When a reporter suggested it was closer to 35 minutes, McNichols said: "It seemed shorter because he did all the talking."

McNichols disclosed after the meeting that he was a college roommate of Camille Gravel Jr., Democratic national committee man in Louisiana, and a political foe of Long.

With Wisner's departure, Long's often-abundant entourage was reduced to one man—Lt. Russell

Willie of the Louisiana state police.

In another of his pungent-phrased, rambling news conferences at his hotel room, Long said he had "a nice chat" with Truman on the telephone Thursday night. Long said that while in Kansas City, he will have Truman's regular hotel suite—"even to the piano."

The governor denied reports he had lost a hefty wad of cash at the horse races yesterday.

"How could I drop $5,000, as they say?" he demanded. "I didn't have $5,000." He said he lost about what he had won the day before, which he estimated at $100.

Long said he will open his campaign for governor on Aug. 1 at Leesville, La. Louisiana law prevents a governor from succeeding himself. Long said he will get around that by resigning, "just before I take office" next May, and said the state Constitution would permit this.

Long came to Denver early Wednesday after touring Texas and New Mexico on his vacation trip. His expensive automobile was being driven to Kansas City.

From there, Long said, he plans to go to Oht Springs, Ark., leaving Kansas City Sunday morning.

At Hot Springs he said he planned to rejoin his physician, Dr. Martin O. Miller, for another examination and Dr. Robert Bernhard Sr., both of New Orleans.

The 63-year-old Louisiana governor said he had gained nine pounds in weight on his recuperative trip from recent illness during the last few days and now weighs 164 pounds.

On other questions at his news conference Long said he planned to resign and run again for governor "as late as I can. If I want to be a penny ante about it, I can resign the day before I take office."

Long said he planned to make 150 speeches, instead of the customary 300 because there are "no good men in the race and I hope no good men enter."

He predicted he would get 60 per cent of the votes "if I don't blow a fuse or come loose at the seams."

Opening day speeches in his Aug. 1 campaign speaking tour, Long said, would be at Leesville at 10 a.m., Coushatta 1:30 p.m., at Jena at 4:30 p.m. and Alexandria 8 p.m.

Long said he thought the proposed special session of the Louisiana Legislature which he plans to call for Aug. 10 would cost the state about $148,000 "providing the legislators keep their kinfolk off the payroll."

"Uncle Earl," he said, "doesn't have any relatives on the payroll this time."

U.S. Protest Lodged Over Plane Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States lodged a sharp protest with the North Korean and Chinese Communist volunteer army Friday for the Red attack on a Navy patrol plane last month. It labelled the act "attempted murder over the high seas."

The U. S. protest was relayed to the Communists by the United Nations command at a special meeting of the armistice commission in Panmunjom.

The Navy said last week an inquiry had determined that the two Russian-built Mig planes flew out of North Korea to attack the four-engine patrol plane over international waters and then returned behind the Bamboo Curtain.

Maj. Gen. William Biddle, senior member of the U. N. team on the Military Armistice Commission delivered the protest. It called the attack "illegal and unprovoked" and said there was no doubt the hostile action was "premeditated and intentional."

Aviation Electronics Mate 3-C Donald Eugene Corder of Jacksonville, Ill., suffered 50 shrapnel wounds when the Red Migs swooped down on the U. S. plane over the Sea of Japan.

The protest said the U. S. plane at no time was over Communist territory. It described the flight as a routine reconnaissance mission such as Soviet and North Korean aircraft carry out in the same area.

The United States warned that its planes will continue flights over international waters. The Communists, it said bluntly, will "have to bear the full consequences" of any future attack.

The note said U. N. forces will defend themselves at all times "against unprovoked barbaric aggression by your side." It also demanded immediate punishment of the Red fliers involved, plus steps to make sure the attack is not repeated.

A State Department spokesman conceded this government did not know whether the planes were piloted by North Koreans or Red Chinese. But it was clear, he said, that the planes came from North Korea.

The protest was delivered through the U. N. command because the United States recognizes neither Communist China nor North Korea.

Monroe District Scouts To Visit N. Mexico Camp

A three-week stay at Philmont Ranch in New Mexico is to be enjoyed by 26 Monroe area Scouts who will leave Camp Ki-Ro-Li early Saturday.

The group will leave Ki-Ro-Li at 5:15 a.m. on a three day journey on a special bus to the huge Scout ranch near Cimarron, N.M. District Scout executive Travis W. Chevallier of Monroe will act as contingent leader, assisted by Joe White, Bastrop, and Tommy Womack, Chatham.

Scheduled to make the trip are the following Scouts: Russell Morrow, Troop 37, West Monroe; Clyde H. Jordan, Troop 10, West Monroe; Bryce Antley, Troop 11, West Monroe; Phillip James, Troop 24, Waterproof; W. Decker Moore, Troop 37, West Monroe;

Khrushchev Applauds Nixon

United States' Vice President Richard Nixon, left, is applauded as he officially opens U. S. exhibition in Moscow, Russia, Friday. Applauding in right foreground, from left, are Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Nixon's wife and Soviet Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov. Khrushchev's applause was quite a contrast to war of words he waged with Nixon in what was described as the most astounding public exchange between such world figures that reporters in Moscow ever have been able to listen in on. # Special Session Call Is Opposed By Area Solons

Like so many other legislators, Rep. T. T. Fields and Sen. B. R. Patton, both of Farmerville, are against Gov. Earl K. Long's plan to call a special session.

In Monroe yesterday afternoon, Fields and Patton both branded a special session as a "waste of the taxpayers' money."

A special session would cost in the neighborhood of $200,000, they pointed out.

"However," Fields said, "if the governor calls the session, there's not much for us to do but attend."

"I don't see what we could accomplish," Patton chimed in. Long, according to his friend J. M. (Pete) Menefee of Monroe, definitely will call a special session beginning August 10. In the meantime, he plans a meeting in Monroe next Wednesday with area legislators.

Fields said he received a telegram from the governor yesterday informing him of the Monroe meeting. Patton said he was notified of the meeting by A. K. Kilpatrick, a Monroe businessman closely associated with the governor.

Long said the purpose of the Monroe meeting would be to discuss bills to be brought before the special session.

"We won't know, I don't suppose, exactly what would be brought into a special session until the governor issues the call," said Fields.

Bert Coverdale Seeks Reelection As Tax Assessor

Bert Coverdale, Ouachita parish tax assessor, will be up for re-election in the December primary.

Now in his fifth consecutive term of office, the genial official quipped last night, "How long have I been a candidate? I've always been running for the office."

He has 41 years experience in the assessor's office.

In 1918 he was employed as chief assessor. Joe Hanna was appointed to fill her husband's unexpired term when he died in 1939.

Coverdale was elected to the post in 1940, took office on Jan. 1, 1941. He is now in his 19th year as assessor.

Squirrels Dying In Court Square

Three squirrels living on the Ouachita Parish Courthouse Square have died during the last three days and District Biologist Joe Herring is having lab tests made to determine the cause.

The third victim found yesterday, appeared to have been chewed to death perhaps by a dog. But lab tests at LSU will show if a disease is threatening to wipe out Ouachita Parish's number one squirrel family.

States Righters Convene Today

Ouachita Parish States Righters meet today with party members from throughout the state at the Bentley Hotel in Alexandria.

William Nield, Ouachita president, and other members are due to attend the 1 p.m. meeting.

Robert G. Chandler, state chairman, said that the session has been called to strengthen the party in Louisiana.

"Chairmen and secretaries of parish committees already organized, and members of the party throughout the state, are urged to attend," officials said.

City Court

MONROE

In Judge W. M. Harper's city court yesterday four women received heavy fines.

Irene Robinson and Bessie Love were fined $350 or 210 days each on illegal use of a weapon charges.

Elizabeth Williams and Lucille Brown both were assessed $350 or 210 days on theft charges.

Roy Johnson, was fined $100 or 100 days on a theft count.

Another male charged with theft was Roosevelt Hamilton. He drew a compulsory sentence of 180 days.

A reckless driving charge netted Josie Jackson a fine of $25.

The following forfeited bonds in court yesterday:

C. W. Owens, $5, speeding, and $25, no driver's license; Gladys F. Poole, $10, speeding; William Davenport, $15, speeding; Lee Avery Gaddis, $7.50, speeding, and Richard Getchell, $12.50, speeding.

Long Seeks $6 Million In Libel Action

LIVINGSTON, La. (AP)—Counsel for Gov. Earl K. Long filed a six-million-dollar libel suit Friday against Time, Inc., publishers of Time and Life magazines.

The suit asked the damages for what it termed "malicious writing of publication and distribution" of a defamatory article in Time magazine.

The suit filed in this tiny town, 20 miles east of Baton Rouge, also named five local distributors and the insurer of Time, Inc.

The insurer was identified only as "ABC Insurance Co.," because "petitioner has no knowledge of the true identity and name of the insurance company" insuring Time, Inc.

The suit added, however, the true name would be supplied as soon as it can be obtained.

Long asked one million dollars damages on each of these contentions.

1. Damage to his business and professional standing and political capacity.
2. Loss of private, public and official confidence.
3. Injury to his private, public and official character.
4. Mental pain, anguish and suffering.
5. Humiliation and damage to reputation.
6. Unwarranted invasion of privacy.

The suit claimed Time magazine on June 15 "did maliciously expose plaintiff, Earl K. Long, to public hatred, contempt, ridicule and obloquy, and did deprive him of public confidence and embarrass him publicly" by publishing, disseminating and distributing the article in Louisiana.

"The article 'was false, untrue and was known to be false and untrue by the officers, agents, writers and reporters, employees and directors of defendant Time, Inc.," the suit claimed.

Man Is Jailed On New Charge

A West Monroe man, previously arrested here on federal charges of issuing a bogus check, was taken in custody again yesterday on an additional charge.

Shields Gardner Lawson appeared before the U. S. Commissioner yesterday afternoon, waived formal hearing, and had his bond set at $2500.

He is charged with forging a $82.40 check in Tucson, Ariz. on June 14, 1958.

Shields had previously posted bond for the other charge. He was placed in the Ouachita Parish jail in lieu of this bond.

Real Estate Transfers

The following real estate transfers were on record today in the office of the Ouachita Parish clerk of court:

David H. Rainwater sold to Maury W. Savage S½ of W½ of square 49 of Crescent Bend Addition to Monroe for $1500 cash and assumption balance due on mortgage to Prudential Insurance Co. dated 10-22-51 in original amount of $6650.

P. G. Zuber sold to John M. Drouet a lot in block 1 of Roselawn Addition for $18,500.

Jake L. Lee sold to Bart Tharpe a lot in NE¼ SW¼ in section 34, township 17, range 4 for $250.

J. D. McKeithen sold to Frank D. Woolie lot 16 in block 1 of subdivision lots 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 of Fennell Estate south of DeSiard Road for $13,000.

P. G. Zuber sold to James Pendleton Kiper south 90.98 feet of lot 8 and north 3.56 feet lot 9 in block 1 of Pine Woods subdivision for $15,300.

Herman Hansford sold to Minnie Bell McPherson south 71.78 feet of lot 5 and north 28.76 feet lot 6 block 3, unit 1, Cage and Watkins subdivision of the Haynes Tract for assumption mortgage original amount $8000.

Terry S. LaGrone sold to Olaf L. Lagrone all their interest in S½ lots 14, 15, and 16 square 1 in R. H. Oliver's subdivision lots

New Subdivision Being Developed

Water and sewerage lines are being laid in a new subdivision in West Monroe, which is being developed by James McGuire and Mrs. Kate F. McGuire.

Blacktopping of the streets is also underway, and gas and electricity will be available, McGuire said.

Improvements costing about $105,000 are planned for the subdivision, located in the northern end of West Monroe.

Only one new street is planned, an 80-foot boulevard to be called Olympic Boulevard. The other streets will be extensions.

McGuire said there will be 75 lots 100 by 150 feet.

Restaurant Men To Attend Meet

Restaurant men will attend a regional meeting here Monday at 3:30 p.m., sponsored by the Louisiana Restaurant Association.

The group will meet at the Frances Hotel to discuss "an important development in labor relations," according to William Hilzlm.

Hilzlm is executive director of the association. Restaurant men from throughout the area were urged to attend, he added.

ACQUIRES STOCK

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Co. said it has acquired more than 90 per cent of Suntime Refining Company's common stock through its offer to exchange one Sunray share for three Suntime shares.

1 and 2 square 5 Riverside Realtors were on record today in the office of the Ouachita Parish clerk of court:

A. J. Lester sold to Ray Adams Cormier a lot in W½ of NE¼ in section 28, township 18, range 3, for $1600.

Edna Clarkson and Mrs. Joan Crabtree sold to Taylor G. Sawyer a lot in lot 2 of J. A. White Estate for $1000.

James R. White sold to The First Baptist Church of West Monroe a lot in block "U" of Austin's and Eby's New Western Addition to West Monroe for $9000.

Narcotics Board, Police Officials Confer On Funds

BATON ROUGE (AP) — The narcotics board of the Louisiana Sheriff's Assn. met with top state police officials and a legislator. A spokesman said a recent $24,200 appropriation by the state Legislature was discussed.

Sheriff A. P. Prejean of Houma, chairman of the five-man sheriffs board, said officials hope to cut down narcotics use through organized efforts of law enforcement agencies.

State Rep. Richard Bertrand of Lafayette Parish, sponsor of several anti-narcotics laws, and Col. E. P. Roy, state police superintendent, and Lt. Col. Tom Burbank, Roy's assistant, also attended.

Other members of the Sheriff's Assn. committee are Sheriffs Bailey Grant of Ouachita Parish, and G. H. Wattigny of Iberia, and Chief Deputy Sheriff J. B. Kling Jr. of East Baton Rouge, and Chief Deputy Sam C. Mazilly of Calcasieu.

The legislative appropriation will pay for two radio-equipped police cars, photographic, recording and fingerprinting and information material to be available to sheriffs at all times. Plans call for an information clearing house.
